ISPA 2024 – International Symposium on Piezo- composite Applications

Supported by

Invitation

The ISPA 2024 – International Symposium on Piezocomposite Applications invites international experts from research and industry to discuss the latest developments and applications in the field of piezocomposites. This year's symposium, taking place from November 6 to 8, 2024 in Dresden, Germany, will focus on three main topics:

- Energy harvesting: utilizing piezocomposites for energy harvesting applications, including their use in renewable energy systems, self-powered sensors, and wireless power transfer.
- HIFU applications: use of piezocomposites in high-intensity focused ultrasound (HIFU) technology for medical and therapeutic applications, including tumor ablation, non-invasive surgery, and targeted drug delivery.
- Sonar applications: sonar technology using piezocomposites, including their use in underwater communication, autonomous underwater vehicles (AUVs), and marine exploration.

You are cordially invited to report on your latest developments and future prospects in a presentation and to present your products and services as an exhibitor or sponsor.

In addition to the exchange of knowledge, the symposium will focus on networking and the establishment of future partnerships.

Join us at ISPA 2024 dedicated to advancing the field of piezocomposite applications.

We look forward to welcoming you to ISPA 2024!
